AN EDISON ANNIVERSARY

THOMAS A. EDISON "saw the light" 23 years ago yesterday. It was an anniversary that should have been observed by the nation and the world, for it was a date that should stand in history as the time mark of one of its greatest achievements. The invention of the incandescent lamp is worthy of being singled out as one of the most remarkable and worthy of the accomplishments of this or all times.

Edison has thousands of inventions and discoveries to his credit. With Luther Burbank he shares the honors of the world. Theirs are the innovations of progress, of development, of good to mankind. Burbank is the Edison of plant life. Edison is the Burbank of the world of inanimate science. When these two men clasp hands the world should take cognizance, for they are of the two in all human selections, who should amalgamate efforts and lead mankind. Military experts and rulers akean for personal aggrandizement, are little puppets compared with them. The inventor of the incandescent lamp, the producer of the prolific potato, these are the men who benefit instead of destroy society. Theirs is the work that lives and they are the men who should live in history and have the generations that now are and will be, rise up to honor them.

NOTHING DOING NOW

FRIEND GAZETTE is now happily aligned on the side of the rifle clubs that it did not realize existed when it gave Gardnerville that famous boost and pronounced it to be the trail blazer for Nevada. It is a happy faculty of the Gazette, an amiable attribute, that when it sees itself to be in error it makes correction and expiation. The Tonopah, Goldfield and Manhattan National rifle clubs appreciate the attention paid to them since the Bonanza called attention to the regrettable oversight.

Now it is suggested that there be a match, but it is a little late in the season. Down in his section of the state, we are wearing shoulder pads for hard kicking shotguns, and the quail are falling like the leaves of Vallambrosia, while the ducks are quacking their last, the lordly deer are leaping their final leap and everything else in the game line is succumbing to the artillery of the sportsmen.

When spring returns and the laws prohibit game shooting for an interval, then Manhattan, Tonopah and Goldfield will be in a very receptive mood for challenges and those published in the Gazette will be reproduced in the Bonanza, and the southern clubs will also take a little side bet money with them if they elect to journey to the northward to journey with the clubs that are or may be in that uncharted but promising portion of Nevada.

THE NORTH STAR STRIKE

AT THIS writing it is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the influence that the North Star find will have upon the immediate future of the Tonopah stock market, for it is a mine that is in a class by itself on account of the high proportion of gold. It is somewhat off the silver belt, a sort of gold buckle thereon, as it were, but there is no questioning the showing that has been made on the 200 level. The vein seems to be fast and firm, a continuation of the Martha, which gave the Montana the distinguished honor of being the first incorporation in the camp to pay a dividend.

Furthermore, the fact that it trends off in the North Star in a northeasterly direction is assurance that additional territory, now virgin, will be in line for development work.

Several years ago the North Star, through mineral discovery, gave to Tonopah a period of great activity in mining, encouraging the development of territory that hitherto had been unexplored. The North Star strike of recent date was unexpected, which is all the more reason why it will result in increased interest.

There is no reason why Tonopah securities have been so sadly neglected on the market. They are making good. The mines are producing at the rate of $11,000,000 a year and, with the coming appreciation of silver price, they can easily add 50 per cent to their output without drawing upon reserves faster than they are created. Here is a unique district. It is proven for half a mile in width by two miles in length, with no knowledge as to how much farther the mineralization extends. Tonopah cannot be worked out in many years, even if the zone is no farther extended, but there is every reason to believe that the lines of demarcation between bonanza and borrasca are far
